

MARY KAY®

Dear Business Executive:

In just 10 to 15 minutes, you can get a head start on showing your appreciation to your employees and clients this holiday season.

I am an Independent Beauty Consultant with Mary Kay Cosmetics, and this season I have a selection of quality gifts at reasonable prices, which I'm sure, will delight your employees and clients.

These limited edition fragrance gifts are attractively packaged and can be given separately or grouped in gift sets, depending on the price range for each person on your gift list.

I also have a regular line of skin care for men and women, as well as glamour and body care items you may want to consider giving to those on your personal gift list.

In a few days, I'll call for an appointment at your convenience, I would appreciate the opportunity to meet with you for just a few minutes to discuss these gift ideas and show you how they can make your holiday gift-giving easy, economical and rewarding.

Sincerely,

Independent Beauty Consultant

P.S. My gift service includes free gift-wrapping and a delivery date convenient to you. Plus, Mary Kay Cosmetics and I back all our products with a 100 percent guarantee.
